ETH Zurich – your exchange destination for studies in technology and the natural sciences

Why ETH Zurich?

ETH is one of the leading international universities for technology and the natural sciences. It is well-known for its excellent education, ground-breaking fundamental research and for implementing its results directly into practice. Founded in 1855, ETH hosts today over 22,000 students from over 120 countries, including more than 4,000 doctoral students. To researchers, it offers an inspiring working environment, to students, a comprehensive education. Twenty-two Nobel Laureates have studied, taught or conducted research at ETH, underlining the excellent reputation of the university.

What to expect from student life

ETH has student exchange agreements with 150 partner universities around the world, and their Student Exchange Office accepts more than 500 students every year. Be part of our exchange community for one or two semesters, starting from the third year of your studies.
