

The Olympics of Innovation

The Diplomatic Courier and our World in 2050 Think Tank are pleased to present the call for applications for the Olympics of Innovation, our 2050 Global Innovation Challenge Awards. The competition, which runs from January to June in 2020, recognizes and celebrates ground-breaking startups, research, ideas, inventions, and organizations tackling our world's most complex problems in seven categories; namely the future of society, humanity, health, energy, travel, as well as off-world civilizations, and artistic visions of the future. The selection committee will include decision-makers across the corporate investment and innovation spectrum, industry leaders, education and technology experts as well as policy advisors and others who are leading the future from the intersection of the arts, sciences, technology and more.

We invite you to join us here and learn more about the challenge and the impact we hope to make in the megatrends we believe will be transformative for humanity's long-term future. A Press Release will also be sent to wires worldwide and to our own media list of over 5,200 members, getting the word out far and wide.
