

KOF's Business Tendency Surveys provide valuable information on current and future developments and trends throughout the Swiss economy, individual sectors and various regions. The findings of these Business Tendency Surveys are included in all assessments of the economic situation and in the economic forecasts produced by KOF and other institutions. KOF's Survey Portal provides a convenient overview of these detailed evaluations.

Well-researched information on the situation and prospects of Swiss firms: that is what businesses, financial analysts and economic policy decision-makers rely on.

As a survey respondent you are making a valuable social contribution to this process. It does not matter how big your business is - what counts is your opinion!

As a reward for your participation the new Survey Portal will provide you with exclusive access to KOF's evaluated survey findings. You also have the option of compiling a customised overview of the graphics and charts showing the sectors of interest to you.
