

ETH Zurich
Professorship for Social Brain Sciences
Stampfenbachstrasse 69, STB G
8092 Zurich, Switzerland

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in gaining research experience within the Professorship for Social Brain Sciences of Prof. Emily Cross. In addition to performing world-class scientific research, we are passionate about providing growth opportunities for early-career scientists. As a result, we are happy to accept applications for internships under the supervision of our talented PhD and post-doctoral researchers.

Our desire to provide an individualized approach to supervision means that the number of internships available is limited. However, we encourage applications from motivated, reliable individuals with a passion for our work.

To formally register your interest, we ask that you complete the following application form and return it as a single PDF to Fenella Symes fenella.symes@gess.ethz.ch. Your application will then be reviewed by our lab members, one of whom will contact you within 14 days if a suitable position is available. If you have not heard from any member of the lab within this time frame, this, unfortunately, means that no internship positions are available at the time.

We look forward to receiving your application.

Kind regards,

Fenella Symes
