September 2021

While enjoying the well-deserved rest after the exam session, we at CSNOW are already working on the next semester. We're happy to share some of our plans—for the first time in a long while, in-person events!

Scroll down to see a sneak peek, and we will have more exciting things lined up for later in the semester. We hope to see you soon!

CSNOW Events

We have a few events lined up already for this semester:

- Semester start apéro (second week of the semester)
- Mentoring program, joint with VIS
- 📚 Q&A session with Sarah Springman (October 25)
- 🌍 Invited speakers from EqualVoice by Ringier (October 27)
- ☕ Coffee series (TBD)
- Movie night (TBD)

and more that we are still working on!

Mentors wanted!

One of the most helpful things when starting out as a student is having someone to help you who has been there. Are you interested in helping as a mentor? Or perhaps you were once a CSNOW mentee yourself and want to give back?

This year, VIS is setting up a new mentoring program inspired by our efforts, and we are joining forces! Therefore, the procedure will be a little different. To ensure that female students will get the chance at a women as their mentor, we are also using the semester start apéro as a place to connect.

Stay tuned for the invitation to our semester start apéro, which is the best place to get to know potential female mentees!
