

Normal approximation of small subgraph counts in sparse intersection graphs

Mindaugas Bloznelis,
Vilnius University,
Lithuania

Sparse random intersection graphs admit nonvanishing global clustering coefficient and asymptotic power law degree distribution. We show that the number of cliques of given size k is asymptotically normal.