

«Point» the virtual ETH Zurich community platform

www.point.ethz.ch

What is it about: «Point» is a brand new community platform for all members of ETH Zurich, from personnel and faculty to students. It connects people, celebrates the diversity of ETH Zurich and fosters exchange for a sustainable future.

What can I find on «Point»?

Groups: Team up: Join or form a group and get active! Share your passion for hiking, music, or urban gardening and engage for a sustainable future.

Tips: Good to know: Highlight interesting spots, share tips and life hacks with your fellow ETH community members.

Events: What's happening around you: Attend concerts, vegan cooking courses or a hackathon. Explore or organise your own event, and meet other community members.

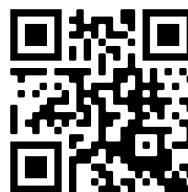

Marketplace: Sharing is caring: Looking for a vintage bicycle, some pre-loved clothes or a new flat mate? Check out all the offers on the community marketplace.

For whom: «Point» is a peer-to-peer platform. Its content is created exclusively by the ETH community for the ETH community. You are very welcome to share your ideas, tips, interests or questions with the ETH community and make new connections.

Why now: The COVID-19 pandemic changed all our lives in 2020. Restrictions changed our daily routines abruptly. Lectures at ETH Zurich moved to the virtual space, online meetings became the new standard. In these times, it is more important than ever to feel part of a community.

Who is behind «Point»: ETH Sustainability, the Safety, Security, Health and Environment (SSHE) department, IT Services Teaching Lab, supported by ETH Corporate Communications and many more.
